

22061 HIGHLY PROFITABLE ENGINEERING CONSULTING FIRM - SOLD

All the hard work has been done building a great brand, so step in and capitalise on the excellent reputation and continue the same success.

This great business is available at a great price as the owner is ready to move on. The owner-operator generates all of the work and this is outsourced to a variety of contractors, making this an easy and profitable business to manage.

The business services two markets through discreet offerings in high growth and extremely profitable market sectors. Both are solution-based consultancy firms working with Architects, Designers, Developers, and new enterprise. With a focus on preparing commercial and residential reports for projects large and small, the business captures every corner of the market and has seen consistent growth year on year.

Established for over nine years and with an extensive client base Australia-wide, these businesses have developed a solid reputation for accurate and efficient job delivery. Run with low overhead, high-profit business model from a home-based office with the ability to be run from any location. The use of loyal subcontractors to carry out the work on the ground level, together with state-of-the-art technology leaves the business owner with flexibility in their day-to-day schedule.

As one of the few businesses exceeding growth expectations through the current economic climate, there is plenty of future growth opportunities for years to come. This opportunity would suit a driven business owner or make an excellent acquisition for an existing consultancy firm.

Primed and ready to transfer seamlessly into new ownership, you can step in with confidence and hit the ground running from day one.
