34627 JERKY MANUFACTURING & WHOLESALE BUSINESS – MOTIVATED SELLER

Are you seeking a distinctive and lucrative business opportunity in the food sector? Your search ends here! A well-established jerky business is now available for purchase from a motivated seller, known for its unique and drier product compared to most jerky on the market.

Easily managed by a small team, this business has proven to be profitable while being operated from a commercial kitchen in their home, eliminating the need for a physical storefront and minimising overhead costs. The business can be run from any location, allowing the new owner to select an ideal site that perfectly aligns with their needs and long-term growth plans.

This premium jerky is distributed through a strong network of wholesale clients, including IGAs, BP service stations, vending machine companies, and various smaller outlets, as well as an established online store. The business also includes all essential equipment for trade shows, enabling direct customer interaction and brand promotion at different events.

This business offers tremendous potential for expansion. Although the current owners have kept operations steady, their other life commitments have prevented them from fully maximising this opportunity. There is substantial room for improvement in several areas, including boosting the online presence, expanding retail sales, increasing the customer base, optimising website use, and implementing effective marketing strategies. A new owner with the drive and vision to concentrate on these areas could elevate this business to new heights.
