Bookings are coming in faster than bikes in the MotoGP, take advantage now!

Motorcycle riders are passionate, enthusiastic and keen to get the most from their ride. With such powerful machines, it's paramount to undertake continual risk assessment and intuitively understand how best to shape up in a hazardous situation.

Established over ten years, this profitable motorcycle training school has built a solid reputation for its world-class course delivery and effective training methods. With safety at the forefront, they offer various programs allowing students to develop their skills either on the road or race track in a group setting or one-on-one environment. The school covers all levels of riders, from beginners to seasoned and integrates state of the art technology to ensure students get the most from their experience.

Located in Western Sydney, the multipurpose training facility is well known and could not be more ideal. Inviting spectators to watch and photograph makes for a fun experience for all. This business has developed strong relationships and has ongoing contracts with key stakeholders, manufacturers and government bodies, ensuring ongoing course development, organic growth and plenty of work for years to come. Together with the Covid boom in the motorcycle industry, there are more bikes on the road than ever before.

Under full management, and with loyal, skilled and highly trained staff on hand to support the new owner, you can step in with the confidence of knowing you will
